MEMORANDA.

Extract from letter sent to my Sister Dec 15-1862 I have for some months corresponded with Sister Harriet but no committal or settled yet She is about my height rather slender very elegant -ant form - dark hair - hair fair good complexion - a stranger might not consider her very handsome - but I have long known her and in my judgment her features are admirable and there is in her physiognomy something at once a noble and excellent mind she has every requisite for that. In the parlor and every department of the domestic circle. She is a good Methodist - and according to Wesley's discip -tion I can scarcely add more. She is not far from 45 years of age blue eyes. She is universally beloved by all who are acquainted with her. She is benevo -lent & self sacrificing and ever ready to administer to the subjects of suffering and want. In reaching her home I felt some interest and anxiety to see how she appeared. as I had not her for quite a number of years. You may judge of the pleasure it gave me to see instead of the marks of age & weariness and withful appearance than when I last saw her I hoped the morning pleasur -ly with the family had no chance or desire to private conversation next morning I made A call on some old acquaintances returns in tears on fond remembrance. And now a mind is born of intense interest. I loved her better than any other person on earth and had decided to marry her if I could get her. I thought perhaps she might like me, but then she must feel more than an ordinary attachment - to sacrifice a most pleasant home, the company of her children and a large circle of affectionate and devoted friends to accompany me to a distant land and receive of every society in exchange for that she leaves. These thoughts passed vividly through my mind and caused my heart to flutter in the uncertainty of conjecture - a favorable opportunity presented itself I took advantage of her after a few words had passed I said "I think more of you and like you better than any other person living - I waited not very long for this reply and I think more of you and like you better than any other one. I replied I can marry no other one, you are certainly my choice. She answered you are the only person I have

RECEIVABLE FROM

I have no faith in modern - Spiritualism yet -
 A very remarkable circumstance took place late last Oct 1860 My Wife and Daughter had been talking of trust in God in reference to the Murder of our Son Dana. Soon after they put their hands upon the stand and the following was spelled.
 "Listening to your conversation I see that you trust God more entirely than before my death herein you see the good resulting from our apparent expiration Trust him even in every hour of darkness - all things do work for good to those who love God
 - I loved him better than you knew & he loved me with an Infinite compassion."
